In Touch FRAUD INVOLVING OLDER ADULTS

It is estimated that over 60% of the abuse which is inflicted upon older adults is financial abuse. This can range from a person in a position of trust withholding money or forcing a person to give up or sell property or possessions to deceptive telemarketing and door-to-door sales scams. Seniors are targeted for many different reasons that include loneliness, lack of family support, age, vulnerability and for health-related reasons such as Alzheimers.

ARE ALL TELEMARKETERS AND SALESPEOPLE DECEPTIVE?

- Most telemarketers are legitimate and honest business people trying to sell a product or service or soliciting donations for a charitable organization. "Buyer Beware"
- Over half of the total number of telemarketing prize pitch victims are over the age of 60
- Of all victims, seniors represent 85 percent of those consumers who have lost more than $5,000

WHAT IS DECEPTIVE TELEMARKETING?

- This is when a person uses a phone to obtain payment from you for a non-existent or misrepresented product, service or charitable gift
- Using the phone to obtain your private banking information or credit card number to further commit frauds and thefts
- Offering you a prize for which you must pay up front
- Using the phone to obtain your money fraudulently in anyway

YOU CAN PROTECT YOURSELF BY ADHERING TO THE FOLLOWING TIPS:

- Be Cautious and Remember, "BUYER BEWARE"
- You have the right to check out any caller by requesting written information, a call back number, references and time to think over the offer.
- Legitimate business people will be happy to provide you with that information
- Always be careful about providing confidential personal information, especially banking or credit card details, unless you are certain the company is legitimate
- If you have doubts about a caller, it's wise to ask someone else for help like a relative, close friend or banker

Remember, you can Stop Phone Fraud - Just Hang Up!
